Student of the Week 15th January 2010

Sam Cabbin
D4 Year 10

Sam has managed that difficult balance between humour and work.

He enjoys life and working with others. He is liked and respected by all his colleagues. His opinions are always considered and well thought through.

His level of maturity means he is not afraid to ask questions in public and as such he makes a really good student.

I am sure he will leave school with the exam grades and eventual lifestyle he deserves.
